'Harding Is Reactionary,' Cox Tells 40,000 at Fair

Candidate Starts Day With Speech at Enid; He Assails Republican Opposition to League Covenant and Blames Lodge for Failure of Treaty.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 1.—Before a crowd estimated at more than 40,000 people, Governor Cox of Ohio, democrat presidential candidate, delivered two speeches at the state fair grounds here today.

In both of his speeches the governor again criticised Harding as the candidate of the "reactionaries" and blamed Lodge with being responsible for failure of ratification of the treaty.

He answered a number of questions concerning provisions of the league and soldier's bonuses, and also touched upon farm problems. In an open air meeting at El Reno where a large crowd assembled, the governor asserted that the league of nations was designed to prohibit the white slave and opium traffic.

Speaks at Enid

By the Associated Press
ENID, Oct. 1.—Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate, opened his Oklahoma campaign at 8 o'clock this morning with a speech in the tabernacle here to a large audience.

The governor charged Senator Harding, his republican opponent, with being reactionary, and the leader of the "reactionary forces." He also ridiculed the "front porch" campaign, asserting it had collapsed and had been nailed up.

The league of nations also was discussed, the governor asserting that Senator Lodge was responsible for keeping us out of the league.

Asked if the league of nations would not declare war, Governor Cox asserted that had the plan proposed by the league to enforce peace been adopted the league would have had such power.

The governor was met here by a delegation of Oklahoma democrats, who will accompany him on his tour through the state, which includes eight speeches today. El Reno, Oklahoma City, Chandler, Bristow, Sapulpa and Tulsa are on the nominee's itinerary for addresses during the day.

SAYS BRITISH ARE CAUSING REPRISALS

By the Associated Press
DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—Charges that the reprisals in Ireland were a calculated policy of the government, that the occasion for them often afforded by the provocation of agents and that a plot exists for the assassination of the Irish republican leaders, were made today by Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization.

Mr. Griffith preferred the charges in a long statement to American, English and continental newspaper men.

By the Associated Press

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—Warning against reprisals, no matter what the provocation, was given the Royal Irish constabulary today by Sir Homer Greenwood, the chief secretary for Ireland, in a speech on the occasion of a distribution of medals.

HE'S AGAINST THE BONDS

With the swagger of Mark Antony of old, a powerful local politician, professional man and member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce arose from his seat at the meeting at the Harris Hotel last evening and declared with unmistakable emphasis and in tones sonorous that he was AGAINST the hospital bonds.

The hospital bonds were not under discussion, but the incident shows the glory of this great, free country. A country where speech is untrammeled and where every man has the right to have his say on every question.

It is understood that some will be against the hospital bonds, and reference is only made to this incident to let the public know that it still has the right, in this free country, to oppose anything, no matter how humanitarian or how necessary it may be.

QUITS AS SPEAKER OF BRITISH HOUSE

James William Lowther.

James W. Lowther is retiring as speaker of the British house of commons, a position he has held since 1905. He is a conservative and has represented the Penrith division of Cumberland since 1886. He was deputy speaker of the house for ten years preceding his election as speaker.

HARRISON ADDRESSES BIG MASS MEETING

(Oklahoma City Times, Sept. 28.)

HARRISONSMS

I was 15 years old before I saw a white republican. I have never voted any but the democratic ticket since I was 14 years old.

The difference between advice and command is the difference between what you tell your wife and what she tells you.

The most entertaining political address delivered in Oklahoma this year, fell from the lips of Luther Harrison state senator from Ada. Fourth and Seminole last evening. Probably three hundred men and women braved the cool, autumn atmosphere to hear the picturesque Pontotoc statesman expound the gospel of the democratic party. Probably two thirds of his audience was composed of democrats who cheered his thrusts at republican principles, platform, candidate and leaders. The other third thoroughly enjoyed his brilliant thrusts and laughed heartily at the witty diggs he gave the republican cause.

The trip was made in one of the Couch Transfer company's trucks without mishap, unless having to push out of a mudhole counted, but that is usually understood to be part of the fun. While building a camp fire it was discovered that snakes abound in that part of the country and a snake hunt was got up. Two of the young ladies volunteered to hold the sack. They afterwards refused to disclose the particulars of the hunt, but it is needless to say that no snakes were caught.

He declared the farmer owes nothing to the republicans who have placed only discouragements in his way while the democrats have ministered to his needs by providing a higher price for the products of his farm. And the league of nations, which received that Reverend Dunn would be unable to attend to his regular duties the following day from his evident enjoyment of the jokes.

This is only the first of a series of social events planned by this society aside from the regular work of that organization. On Sunday evening, October 3, new officers for the first half of the coming year will be installed with a special service. Miss Mary Chisholm has been elected president for the coming year and it promises to be a very successful one under her leadership.

CHILD'S SKULL FRACTURED BY MULE'S KICK

The five year old son of Tim Taylor of Lovelady community was kicked in the head by a mule this morning early. The child was immediately brought to the local hospital where he was treated. It was found that the skull had been broken and an operation was necessary. The operation was performed and the boy is reported improving. The doctors believe that he will recover.

HARDING SAYS PROHIBITION NOT BEING ENFORCED

The Republican Candidate Speaks to Women on Social Problems.

By the Associated Press

MARION, Ohio, Oct. 1.—Lax enforcement of prohibition was condemned "without qualification" today by Senator Harding in a "front porch" speech outlining a policy of organized federal effort for the promotion of social justice and welfare.

Addressing a gathering of women, the republican nominee proposed establishment of a "department of public welfare" in the national government and added that, in his opinion, law enforcement was one of the important requisites of social progress.

The senator asserted that he regarded enforcement of law as a "fundamental principle of the American conscience," but he did not discuss the prohibition law at length. In another part of his speech he warned against assumption of too much authority by the federal government in welfare effort and in other activities, declaring that there was grave danger at hand when "centralized expression begins to take from local communities all the burdens of social conscience."

He also voiced his confidence that American women would stand with the republican party against the Versailles league of nations, but said he would "refuse to make any emotional or meretricious appeal to the hearts of the women of America."

Eight-Hour Day for Women.

"There is a growing and a probably wise sentiment in America in favor of an eight hour day everywhere for women. Justice and American standards demand that women who are employed should be afforded a living wage.

"I am constantly hearing voices raised in behalf of women in industry. I desire to raise mine now in behalf of the women farmers of the United States, who in the labor shortage of this year, have gone into the fields.

"Next to maternity and childhood, I believe that our attention must be centered upon our national help. We must attack first, a low standard of help among children; secondly the invasion of diseases which attend a low standard of morals; and thirdly, the invasion of epidemics and the neglect of chronic diseases of maturity."

The meeting was called by President John Smith at the request of the mayor, presumably for finding ways and means of meeting the shortcomings of the present system. That there was looseness in the system was brought out at the previous meeting of the board, at which they called upon Sheriff Bob Duncan to take matters into his own hands in enforcing the law in this city.

Defends Administration.

The mayor delivered an eloquent defense of his administration. He exhibited rolls of paper to show that he had not failed to prosecute law breakers; he pulled out a great wad of legal documents to show that no evidence had been introduced to the effect that the law was not being enforced.

"I did say to Mr. Schienberg that I was running this town, and to go and hire protection if he wanted any," he admitted, explaining that the city was without funds to provide additional officers, and that anyone wanting more protection would have to get it themselves.

"I have taken in more fines than any other mayor Ada ever had," he declared. "And I want to say that it is because I AM enforcing the law that some of these people are squealing. Right now there are cases against eight for shooting dice, and I want to say further that we are going to get after these hotels, too!"

F. J. McFarland, proprietor of the Harris, asked just what was meant by that statement.

"You don't mean to insinuate that I am running a loose house?" he demanded.

"No, that is not what I mean," Hizzoner replied. "I mean that from now on we are going to pay particular attention to the hotels for loose characters."

Not Ready to Quit.

Mr. McFarland mentioned to Hizzoner that he had voted for him, but that later he regretted the fact.

"I don't care about that," was the reply. "I got there just the same, and I am going to run again when my present term expires!"

Then the mayor turned to Ben Schienberg.

"And for your benefit, Mr. Schienberg, I want to say that I am NOT going to resign," he stated with emphasis.

Then Hizzoner launched into an eulogy of his police force.

"I don't believe that I have a man on the force that would hesitate to arrest anyone," he said, "and they have been arresting all the violators right along. They may go at it in a nice, gentle way, but they get the offenders to jail just the same. Whether they merely tell the prisoner to come along, or take him by force, I do not know. I often find one in jail when I come down in the morning, and sometimes as many as six or eight!"

Men Lazy and Cowardly.

Bob Roland was recognized by the chair and arose to have his say.

"The trouble is, Mr. Mayor, that you haven't got a policeman on

BROADWAY MOURNS AT STAR'S FUNERAL

NEW YORK Sept. 30.—Grey shadows filtering down from the high window softened the hues of the great banks of flowers and dimmed the lustre of the gowns of richly-dressed women.

A silence pervaded the great church, broken only by the solemn voice of a priest intoning the Episcopal funeral rite.

From the street came the muffled sum of traffic.

The entire setting gave the illusion of a silent drama.

This was the last "fade out" of Olive Thomas.

The funeral Monday of the noted motion picture actress, who died in Paris as the result of accidentally taking poison, drew thousands of persons from all walks of life to St. Thomas' church on Fifth avenue.

There were millionaires and paupers, stars and members of the chorus, friends and the merely curious.

Hundreds of men and women mostly the latter, stormed the church doors when officials turned them away after the edifice was filled. The police lines were broken time and again.

Order was not finally restored until long after services were over and the body had been removed from the church.

The ceremony was simple. Dr. Ernest M. Stiers, the rector, conducted the services. Jack Pickford, husband of Miss Thomas, sat with her mother, Mrs. H. B. Van Kirk, and Miss Thomas' brother, James Duffy.

Among the honorary pallbearers were Owen Moore, former husband of Mary Pickford and Harrison Fisher, artist, one of the first to discover Miss Thomas' beauty.

The coffin rested in the center of the chancel, under a blanket of orchids, surrounding it were great banks of pink and white flowers.

There was one floral piece from Miss Pickford bearing a card inscribed "from Sister Mary."

As a protection against the curious, the burial place of Miss Thomas was kept secret. It was learned, however, it would be in one of the New York cemeteries.

Wake Up, Old Town

The city of Shawnee is offering a prize of $2,500 to the middle-sized city in Oklahoma which by Thanksgiving day 1921, will score the highest as a place for rearing young humanity. Will this city pass up the challenge or accept it? Shawnee will try for her own money. Recently the people there have held many meetings and have thoroughly organized with the central committee under the direction of the superintendent of schools and composed of working units representing The Home Life, the School Instruction, The Church Discipline and the Community Welfare of the young.

Following are the points upon which the score will be based:

First—Play: Facilities for adequate and safeguarded play at school and in the community. Conditions of parks, playgrounds and the like.

Second—Industry: Industrial training at school, character building, employment during vacation, conditions of employment of juveniles under sixteen. Systematic thrift instruction.

Third—Schools: Management, equipment, methods of contact with community, modern methods of instruction, management of athletics, adequateness of number of teachers, salaries and the like.

Fourth—Health: Modern methods of nursing, health inspection, clinics, hospital service, dental inspection, handling of contagious disease, and the like.

Fifth—Scoutcraft: Management of the boy scouts, girl scouts or campfire girls, facilities for camping, hiking, boating, service work of scouting, organizations. Lessons in Americanization.

Sixth—Moral Safeguards: Management of the motion picture, the dance situation, the cigaret problem, the theater and the general club life of the young.

Seventh—Sociability: Facilities for weekly social experience of all adolescent young people, social management in the high school and the churches and homes.

Eighth—Religion: Youths in the young people's church societies, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., enrollment, management, methods in Sunday schools, how these bodies meet the play and recreational interests of the young.

Ninth—Service: Clubs and societies of men and women studying and dealing constructively with juvenile problems, projects accomplished and under way and the like.

Tenth—Housing: Adequateness of housing, health, sanitation and other comforts of industrial classes and of the families of the lower economic status, together with remediable methods and measures.

TITLED FOLK WHO ARE BIG INDIAN CHIEFS IN CANADA

When Lord Burnham, president of the Imperial Press conference, was made a chief of the Blackfeet recently, he was given the name Nat-o-Sapi, meaning Chief Old Sun. Yellow Horse, chief of all the Blackfeet, conducted the initiation ceremonies at Gleichen, Alberta, and wore a high silk hat with a yellow band while Lord Burnham donned the feathered headdress of an Indian. Lady Burnham was also presented with a similar headdress and a buckskin jacket decorated with beads.

Several members of British royalty and nobility are now chiefs of Canadian Indian tribes. The Duke of Connaught, when he was governor general of Canada, was created Chief Feenckha Eeyake Oonka, or Great Mountain Chief, by the Stoney Indians at Banff. His costume as chief was complete from war bonnet to beaded moccasins.

The Prince of Wales enjoys the distinction of being a chief of at least three tribes. During his tour of Canada last year the Stoney Indians made him Chief Morning Star, the Bloods initiated him as Chief Big Mountain and the six tribes of the Iroquois welcomed him as Chief Dawn of the Morning.

There are still 106,000 Indians of various tribes in Canada who live on reservations but keep up their picturesque customs and on ceremonial occasions wear bonnets of feathers and beaded buckskin clothing. The great pow-wow at Banff each July for visitors to the Canadian Rockies is spectacular and entertaining. The Indians own real estate in Canada valued at $51,000,000 and nearly $5,000,000 worth of live stock. Many of the Indians are successful farmers, crops raised by them in 1918 being of the value of $3,142,046. Many, too, are still masters of woodcraft and are expert hunters and guides.

Everybody wants to know about clothing prices for fall

THAT'S only natural; clothes are a necessity; every man wears 'em, and he doesn't want to pay any more than he has to pay for them. Here are the facts: You'll have to pay a fairly good price for clothes; transportation costs more; yarn spinners are getting more; weaving costs 150 per cent more than it did a few years ago — every cost has gone up.

LEECRAFT SAYS STATE WILL GO OVER THE TOP

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 26.—Col. A. N. Leecraft, state treasurer, who is president of the Salvation Army state advisory board, announced today that Oklahoma is getting ready to "go over the top" once more, the occasion being the S. A. home service campaign to be conducted in every town and county of the state October 4 to 14.

"The field men held a conference here this morning and their reports indicate that everything is in fine shape for a most successful campaign," said Colonel Leecraft. He said: "Reno, Okmulgee, Ponca City, Ardmore, Tulsa, Muskogee, Drumright, Hugo, Lawton, Chickasha and a number of other of the larger cities had completed their organizations and are ready for the gong."

"This campaign is for the purpose of putting the Salvation Army on its feet so it can render a real service to every county," continued Colonel Leecraft. "The arms of the S. A. will hereafter reach to all communities and be of valuable service to the people in solving and preventing social disorder and moral distress. We have a county advisory board in every county; these boards will look after the wants of the poor and unfortunate in their respective communities. The program means so much to Oklahoma that I cannot possibly anticipate anything but an over-the-top result."

One of the immediate results of the campaign, Colonel Leecraft said, will be a rescue home for girls and women, erected in one of the larger cities of the state. Eighteen Oklahoma girls who have "gone wrong" have been sent to the S. A. rescue home at San Antonio since the advisory boards were organized in July, he declared.

COWBOY RUNS MISSION IN BUENOS AIRES

By the Associated Press

Buenos Aires, Sept. 25.—On a street in Buenos Aires which might be called the backwash of the world, judging from the human derelicts cast up from every stream and every land, a North American cow puncher of the old West is conducting a rescue mission where hungry children are fed and tired souls are comforted. He is John Calvert de Bohun, who says he was "born on the hurricane deck of a cayuse" in New Mexico.

Cowboy, jockey, wanderer, and finally ordained minister, Bohun's life has been such as to make him one with the dead wood that drifts into his mission, as he tells his story and his redemption to bodily and spiritual health is a parallel to that of his people. There was a time, he says, when American whiskey was no longer strong enough for him, so that he satisfied his appetite with Chinese whiskey, which is like drinking mixed turpentine and banana oil.

But through the years came glimpses to him of something better. A touch of remorse in Australia, a good example in Europe, the sight of a woman who reminded him of one "he used to know," the influence of Father Damien, who gave his life to the lepers of Hawaii and who was so loved that there was scarcely a dry eye in grog shop or ship's cabin from Manila to Melbourne when he died, such things made him wonder. And finally, worn and world-knowing, when he drifted back to that New Mexico from which he had started and found "Tom the Devil" preaching instead of running the old gambling game, and later saw others follow in his steps, Bohun says that the light came to him. He became a minister.

Bohun's mission is located in a building something in appearance like San Antonio's Alamo, and with a history as eventful as those who repair to it. Built for a Masonic lodge, many years ago, it has been variously dance hall, gambling house, headquarters of the Black Hand in Argentina, and is now a combination church, school, orphan's home and first aid to the morally injured.

In the room where once women and men drank and danced, now there are religious services in Spanish and between times children, seldom less than 100 of them, at lunch or supper.

Children of every race and religion are fed there. Other work of the mission is with lepers and with old men and women. The mission of which Bohun took charge about

UNION LEADERS

WOULD ELIMINATE STRIKES

The recent disastrous Denver Tramway strike occupied a large part of the attention of the Colorado Bar Association at its recent annual convention at Colorado Springs. The association passed resolutions urging the general assembly to provide for a state mounted police to handle all industrial trouble.

Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas declared that the tramway strike would have been settled under the Kansas industrial court law which provides that no essential industry shall cease operation through the action of any of the parties concerned without a decision of the court. In Kansas, under similar circumstances, it would have been the business of the court to hear the testimony of both sides and fix the wages of the employees. Each side would have had complete and satisfactory representation and the decision would be held in respect by the contending parties.

Street cars are essential to the public and had the Kansas law been in effect in Colorado the attorney general acting for the people would have appealed to the court for a settlement. In all industrial court law we do not forbid any man to quit work, but provide that he shall not come back with his pockets filled with dynamite for the fellow who didn't quit. The right of the man to continue on the job is just as defined as that of the man to quit. Of course, labor leaders are opposed to the court—it means that they will have to go to work.

Governor Allen said that since the institution of the court sixteen decisions have been made in every case satisfactory to both employer and employee.

RIGHT TO STRIKE VS. RIGHT TO WORK

In defending the organized labor movement in an address before the Commonwealth Club in San Francisco, President Samuel Gompers said in part: "The labor movement of America is not the advocate of strikes, but labor insists that the right to strike is the one instrument which compels attention. We should all understand that physical attacks upon persons or property have never been an object of the labor strike but that the right of a man to quit work is an inherent right and attribute of freedom."

Mr. Gompers fails to draw the line between the right to strike and the right to work. Unless the public safety or common welfare has been placed in danger through conspiracy to tie up production or transportation, no attempt has been made to prevent men from quitting work individually or in a body.

No person will deny labor the right to organize for its own protection but on the other hand when its program goes beyond that point and attempts to prevent any but its own members from being employed, it cannot expect to retain the support of a fair minded American public.

CHANGING CONDITIONS

That the peak in prices has been reached is again illustrated by candy, a growing necessity as an article of diet. Speaking for the industry, Walter K. Louis, secretary of the Western Confectioners Association, says that the last few months have witnessed a change from a "sellers" to a "buyers" market.

This means that production is increasing and labor must become more efficient to hold a job. Mr. Louis states the candy industry will enjoy the biggest business in history this fall as there will be a tremendous demand and no surplus. But he says "Now is the time to fill your gasoline tanks and step on the throttle, realizing that your salesmen have got to work as they have not worked since before the war to meet growing competition."

The time is again here when it is becoming necessary to "sell" goods instead of merely "hand them out" in any line of business and the candy industry is taking time by the forelock in recognizing this condition.

THOSE WHO HOWL LOUDEST

Advocates of the "one big union," non partisans and radical union labor, are three elements of society which are always mouthing and passing resolutions demanding "free speech" and "freedom of the press."

The trouble seems to be that those who are always howling for "freedom of the press" want freedom for their own newspapers and class organs, but will not tolerate other newspapers and publications exercising freedom of opinion and thought.

The growing sentiment against radical labor organizations and their demands for the closed shop is the direct result of the abuse of power by radical agitators who favor class control and domination of the individual by a small group of autocratic leaders.

State Press Comment

Oklahoman: Once more we have the straw vote with us. Very properly named, for it means little, serving no purpose other than to stir up a discussion when two opposing partisans meet.

Ardmoreite: Several democrats will go from Ardmore to the Cox day blowout at the Oklahoma state fair. So far as we have been able to learn the contingent will consist of the honorary colonels and majors and generals.

Shawnee Morning News: A reporter on a New England newspaper has just inherited $400,000 and says his job is good enough for him. The next time it might be as well to leave the money to the boss.

Durant Daily Democrat: Yesterday Senator Stanley asked the republicans this question: "Would you wipe out the glorious achievements of our boys during the war?" The republican platform does not give tribute to the glorious record made by the United States during the war.

Shawnee Morning News: Governor Cox and President Wilson will hold another conference. This will be an occasion when the old journalistic assurance that "the visit was entirely social and political questions were not discussed" will be entirely impossible.

Chickasha Express: Thanks to Tennessee, the women of Vermont and Connecticut can now express their opinions at the ballot box of the administration that refused to allow the elected representatives of the people in their legislatures to vote upon suffrage.

Oklahoman: Overconfidence sometimes causes the loss of an election. The democrats of Oklahoma should make every effort to get out their full strength on election day. There are vital issues at stake, especially in the presidential, senatorial and congressional races. The democrats should not allow lethargy to give a victory to their opponents.

Chloe Taylor, the boy who was kicked by a mule this morning, was operated on today.

All the patients who have been taking treatment for some time are reported to be improving and are of good spirits.

Mrs. Beach Morris is still improving. It is expected that she will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Mrs. Virgie Stroud of Fitzhugh entered the hospital yesterday.

PIE PARTY TONIGHT FOR SCHOOL BENEFIT

Um-yum! Smack your lips! There will be a pie party this evening on the lawn of the Glenwood school, and you are cordially invited to attend. There will be peach pie, apple pie, cream pie and pies of every variety, and the proceeds of the party will be used for buying playthings for the school lawn. The party will be from 7:30 to 10 o'clock.

The pies will be sold at auction. There will be a cake for the prettiest girl, and a prize for the homeliest man.

Ladies Hard at Work on Hospital Petitions Today

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce met in the city hall yesterday afternoon and organized for the purpose of helping circulate the petitions for the county hospital bond submission.

About forty ladies were present and all seemed to be anxious to aid in the work. After having had the matter explained to them, each and every one volunteered as a committee of one to do the best they could to secure signatures to the petitions. They will make special efforts to see that the women voters of the city have an opportunity to sign the petitions.

OLD STORK PAYS VISIT TO BILL EVERETT'S HOME

"Say, do you want a great piece of news?"

The news hound put on the brakes and came to a dead stop. Such a question to ask a news hound! A few words and he had all the facts.

"Mr. and Mrs. William A. Everett, did you say?"

"Yes, and it's a girl. The old stork came some time this morning."

"Thanks! My congratulations to all three. S'long."

Thieves Abandon Stolen Car in River Bottom

A car stolen from Roy O. Ranes here Wednesday night was found this morning in the Canadian river where it had been abandoned by the thieves. The bridge over the river had been washed out recently, and in trying to ford the river the car became stuck in the sand and had to be left.

Ranes had parked the car in front of Bart Smith's drug store Wednesday night and had gone to a picture show. When he returned it was gone. A farmer saw it this morning and notified a local garage. The water in the river had risen over the wheels.

Mr. Ranes formerly resided here but has been making his home in Center for some time.

Postpone Strike Call.

At the Ada Playhouses

At the McSwain

Miss Norma Talmadge has well exemplified the difference between the woman prepared by work to do her share of the problems of married life and the one who shirks. In "The Woman Gives" which will be the attraction at the McSwain Theater today, this young screen star takes the part of a young talented girl to whom "giving" is as natural as breathing. The story relates how this virtue of hers proves the making of one man and the saving of another, whom a "woman who takes" has started on the road to ruin.

The picture is one of the most natural that has ever been screened. The characters are true to life and the general moulding of the entire plot through the actions which would naturally be expected makes this production as splendid entertainment as has ever been shown in the theater.

Song recital and musical in connection with pictures.

At the American

Those who are vanquished in the ring are usually forgotten heroes in a very short time but inasmuch as the first bout of Georges Carpenter in America was for motion picture purposes only, no disgrace attaches itself to the actor who was his opponent and who, by pre-arrangement, was knocked out after four fast rounds.

The actor in question was Robert Barrat and Barrat's hobby has been boxing. As an amateur he holds several championships of actor's clubs in New York but when he donned the gloves with Carpenter it was the first time the general public had had the opportunity to judge of his powers.

"Bob" Barrat, as he is generally known in the profession is six feet in height, weighs 177 pounds, has a chest measurement of 42 and a 29 inch waist. He has a reach of 75 inches. All these figures are slightly in excess of Carpenter's measurements but Barrat has not got Carpenter's sturdy legs. Physically, therefore, Barrat and Carpenter were fairly matched with slight odds in favor of Barrat, in their bout in "The Wonder Man," at the American theater last night.

Much activity is noticed in the fight for members. Many more applications have already been taken than was anticipated for the entire drive. The fact that the entrance fees are to be raised from $25 to $50 and the dues lowered, has caused many to join now who were intending to join at some later date.

LLY LIGHT FROST REPORTED IN STATE

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 1.—Only light frosts over the state were reported to the weather bureau here this morning, with temperatures ranging from 35 to 45 degrees. No damage to crops was indicated, the bureau announced, while in some localities the light frost was a benefit in so much as it would serve to check excess cotton growth reported from some sections.

STALL SAYS PAIGE CARS HAVE DROPPED

N. B. Stall returned from Oklahoma City last night where he had attended a conference and banquet of Paige dealers. All Paige dealers were called in for a conference concerning the drop in prices on all commodities, and after an expression from all dealers it was found to be the same everywhere, all waiting for prices to drop. After the dealers were heard, Mr. Gamm, assistant sales manager from the factory at Detroit, took the floor and stated that unless the expenses could be curtailed in the manufacture of automobiles the manufacturers of the medium or sensible priced cars could not reduce materially and reduction would only mean to remove surplus stock and prices would be as likely to advance on cars that had not made big jumps in price during the war, as they were to come down.

After getting reports from dealers from all over the country the Paige Motor Car company decided to make a substantial reduction on their entire line, which puts the light roadster or touring model back to $1,975, instead of $2,120, and the sport model at $3,150, instead of $3,450, f. o. b. Ada. This price is guaranteed only to January first at which time there will likely be a slight advance again unless material is reduced to some extent and there will positively be no further reduction within the next twelve months on these models.

Mr. Stall reports a most enjoyable time, notwithstanding he has three new cars on hand which were bought at the old price and will have to be sold at the new.

CONFEDERATES TO MEET AT HOUSTON

On October 5 to 8 for Their 30th Annual Grand Reunion.

Houston, Tex.—Houston throws wide its gates to the South for the 30th Annual Confederate Reunion, October 5 to 8.

Three organizations will meet in Houston that week. The United Confederate Veterans meet for the thirteenth time, October 5 to 8. The Sons of Confederate Veterans hold their 25th annual reunion and the Confederate Southern Memorial Association holds its 21st annual convention October 5 to 8.

Houston is preparing for 10,000 veterans and 65,000 other visitors.

One thousand aged and feeble veterans will be cared for as guests in Houston homes. The others will not live in camp, as in most previous reunions. Instead, they will be billeted in schools and downtown quarters, as they were in Tulsa and in Memphis.

The war department's refusal of cots and blankets for a camp, because of a resolution passed by Congress granting tents but failing to mention other equipment, caused the change of plan.

Veterans will be housed more comfortably, if less picturesquely, than they would be in a camp, and will be safe from bad weather. However, only smiling skies and golden Texas sunshine are to be expected for reunion week.

For the members of the Sons of Veterans and the Memorial Association and their families, Houston is reserving places in private residences. The hotels will take care of 10,000. Housing solicitors are getting pledges of house room for 50,000 paying guests. The usual rate asked is $1 a night per person, where two or more occupy a room. Breakfast, where furnished, costs 50 cents, and the evening meal 75 cents. These prices are designed to cover the cost of accommodation, not to make profit.

On arriving in the city, visitors will register at booths at the railroad stations and will be assigned lodgings. Each will be handed a card listing the address, the car line which leads to it, distance from the car line, rates and room arrangements. A sufficient force will be kept on duty at each of the three terminals, day and night, to handle the incoming crowds, even though during the 24 hours just before the reunion opens a train every eight minutes is expected to unload.

Lodging and meals are free to veterans.

Edward E. A. Pickens, who for seven years has fed the "boys" on the job again. A mess kitchen, a dining hall, and a sandwich and hot coffee stand, are being built on a vacant square just four blocks from the City Auditorium, which is official headquarters. A medical aid station, and two comfort stations will be handy, on the same tract.

The veterans' billets will be chosen for their nearness to the headquarters and the mess establishment. The "boys" will sleep on mattresses, spread down on the floors. Since South Texas enjoys straw hat weather up to the last of October, there will be no danger of catching cold.

So much for the necessities of living during the reunion. Regarded as a spectacle this promises to be one of the most striking ever held. Decorations outdo even the famous display at Tulsa are being put up by the same decorators. Sixty city blocks will be decorated.

The annual reunion of the Confederate organizations is the South's most brilliant social event. Houston appreciating this, has mapped out a social program for its guests that includes: A general reception Tuesday, October 6, to "get acquainted," in hearty Texas fashion.

Nine brilliant receptions and teas of official rank, besides scenes of private functions.

The usual grand ball of the U. C. V. and another for the S. C. V.

Automobile drives over the city and a trip to the famous Houston Ship Channel and Turning Basin, "where 17 railroads meet the sea."

"Memories of Dixie," a song and dance revue of the Old South and the New, will be presented as a compliment to visitors. A cast of 50 singers and dancers will portray life in the South, from "befo de wah" to the present day, singing in each scene the songs that were popular at that time.

With the fare one cent a mile from any point in the Confederacy, Houston expects thousands to take advantage of the reunion to see Texas before the return trip limit, October 31. Thousands will go on to the Dallas State Fair, the greatest exposition in the Southwest, which this year will show better than ever the resources and possibilities of the most talked-of state in the union, Texas. This fair begins October 9 and ends October 24. The round trip fare from Houston is $12.50.

The one-cent rate is granted only to members of the U. C. V., S. C. V., the Memorial Association and their immediate families, on presentation of identification certificates. Hundreds of groups of Sons are being organized especially to afford the chance to visit Texas on cent-a-mile transportation.

JEAN PAIGE

Jean Paige never appeared on the stage and in fact she never made a picture until she came to the Vitagraph studio and was given a role in an O. Henry two reel feature. She is the product of a farm in Paris, Ill., and, like the farmer, makes hay while the sun shines. Soon Miss Paige was leading woman for Harry T. Morey and later for Earle Williams in "The Fortune Hunter," and now she is being co-starred with Joe Ryan in a serial.

NAUGHTY APHRODITE DANCES IN FEATHERS

CHICAGO.—The scantily clad women who appear in "Aphrodite" at the auditorium theater are to be the subject of an investigation by city officials.

A. B. Farwell, president of the Law and Order league, has complained to the police and the mayor that he considers the show unfit for the public.

"The scene on the sofa between a man and a woman was extremely suggestive and only should be acted by a man and wife in their private room," says his letter of complaint.

"Perhaps the worst was the feast of Bacchus," the letter continues.

"The figure of an ostrich is brought in and out of the ostrich steps a woman with feathers on her breast and around her hips, naked every other way. She danced. Here we come to almost a nude woman on exhibition at the auditorium. What is the next step?"

JAP LAND LAW PROBLEM IS YET IN SECLUSION

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Administration officials continued to decline to discuss for publication any of the phases of the negotiations with Japan growing out of the proposed anti-Japanese Land law in California, but the impression has gone out that a proposal from Tokio that the question be referred to a joint commission for solution would be unacceptable.

Conflicting opinion of both American and Japanese authorities on international law is said to have

WHAT SHALL I DO?

Answered by Virginia Page

Shall She Smoke?

Dear Miss Page: Don't you think it's all right for a girl to smoke? Mother and Dad are making an awful fuss because I want to and my brother has been making a fuss about it. I can't see why I can't if he does, and anyway everybody does nowadays.—Juliet.

Well, I don't smoke. And I know several other fairly nice people who don't. But I'm going to be fair with you and admit that I know several respectable women who do smoke, Juliet.

As far as your smoking, just because your brother does, being a firm believer in woman's rights, I must say I think you do have just as much right as he has. But why be foolish just because he is?

No, I don't think it's all right for a girl to smoke, or a woman either, Juliet. I don't think it's "unwomanly," because I can't see what makes smoking essentially "manly." I just think it's silly and extravagant and very unwise.

The High Cost of Living

Dear Miss Page: Most of my new neighbors have called on me. How long should I wait before returning their calls, and should I leave a card if I find them home?—New Resident.

First calls should be returned within two weeks. Yes, leave your card and two of your husbands also, if you are a married woman.

made the task of the state department officials and the Japanese ambassador more difficult.

Proponents of the California law say that California in enacting a measure barring the Japanese from owning land in that state would be refusing to the Jap in this country no rights or privileges which are not refused by Japanese law to the American in Japan.

Japan contends that the California law, which is to be voted on in November, is discriminatory because it does not apply to all foreigners alike, as does the Japanese law.

BUICK

TRUE to the Buick tradition of twenty years, the one feature Buick engineers have particularly sought to develop in the new Nineteen Twenty One Buick Series is high utility value.

You will find, in fact, when you investigate these new models, that Buick capacity for hard, fast, sure transportation is even greater than ever before. The high-powered, sure-working Buick Valve-in-Head Motor is a feature of each of the new models.

Added to their great service value are a beauty of contour and appointment and a comfort of movement and seating arrangement that appeal to the most particular.

Buick primarily, however, is a car of action. Built for business—built to stand up—is a well known Buick feature. Business men will find the new five passenger touring car a happy selection.

Back of it, reinforcing its high serviceability, insuring the uninterrupted use of your investment is Authorized Buick Service rendered by a nation-wide organization.

and unnecessary. It will stain your fingers and spoil the shapeliness of your lips, in time. It will roughen your voice and injure your throat. It will make your breath and hair and fingers smell of stale tobacco. It will cost you a lot of money—just count up what you would undoubtedly spend for cigarettes in a year, and then stop and think how many nice things you could buy for that amount! And worst of all, it will fasten upon you a habit that will be terribly hard to break and that you will regret later on, just as sure as sure.

But here's the point, Juliet—why should you smoke? What's the use?

CONSUMER WILL SOON FEEL DROP IN THE MARKET

More Exacting Demands From Public, Reason For Cut.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Price cutting has taken hold of the wholesale trade to an extent that soon must be felt substantially in lower prices to the consumer, according to the federal reserve board's monthly review, made public here Wednesday night.

Revival of the days of price reduction and its spread to many retail lines was attributed to "a more exacting demand and quality." Retail purchasers are showing continued determination to await a move by dealers to meet those demands while foregoing luxuries and semi-luxuries, reports to the board declared.

Public Dominates Market

Although the board believed, the buying public was largely dominating the market now, it is said that labor and production were having a marked effect on prices. There was much evidence it is said, of increased efficiency on the part of labor and as a result production was on the increase and factory operation beginning to approach normal.

Summed up, the board's findings were that "business conditions now are definitely on the road toward stability of as great and confirmed nature as the disturbed position of the world at large permits."

"Continuance of the process of readjustment in business and industry has been an outstanding feature of the last month," the review said. "This has been accompanied by price reductions and by the resumption of work in branches of industry where hesitation as to future outlook has led to suspension."

Bad breath is a symptom of a disordered stomach, and weak digestion. The remedy for it is Prickly Ash Bitters; the medicine for men. Hizzoner Says His Feelings Are Hurt Terribly Hurt your force who has any backbone to go and get 'em when an offense is committed," he declared. "They are lazy and cowardly, and when something happens, you will find them all together in some other part of town, bunched together like a herd of lazy cattle in the summer time."

Mr. Roland excepted the new men on the force in making the remark.

The speaker cited instances when "bad" men had started trouble here and were unmolested by the officers. In one instance, he stated, an officer had come along and begged the "bad" man to give up his gun.

"Bob Duncan had to come to the rescue," Mr. Roland said.

There were heated denials on the part of the local officers and the mayor.

"You need a chief who has the guts to do his duty," Mr. Roland added.

Business Men to Act

Explanation followed explanation. The situation was made clear. The need is for more officers to properly police the city. It was agreed that additional officers would have to be furnished by the business men themselves to protect their business places at night, and a committee was named to canvass the business fraternity of the city for subscriptions toward paying the additional men.

Then the atmosphere became congenial. One or two felt as if a kiss should be implanted on Hizzoner's brow for the work done by his officers and himself, but this was not done.

It Couldn't Be Done.

"My object in appearing before this body tonight was to ask that you refute what was said in the article in the News which reported the meeting of Tuesday night," he explained.

It was shown, however, that the article only told what took place at the meeting. True, it would have been a balm to his aching heart, but there was no back-tracking to be done.

DIPTHERIA

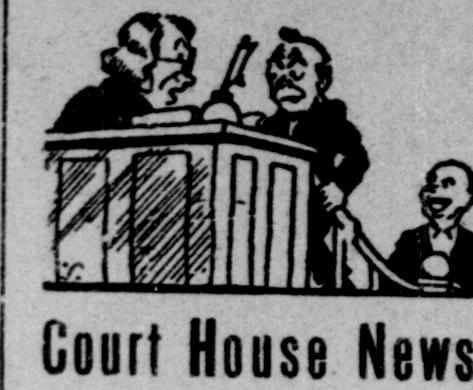

Inasmuch as there is considerable Diphtheria it is now advisable to keep the NOSE and THROAT clean.

Normal Notes

The enrollment has reached the 374 mark and is still growing. Every day sees new students coming in. This shows that word is being passed around as to what a good school the Normal is.

Miss Streeter entertained in assembly yesterday by giving a talk and demonstration on the appreciation of music, why we should appreciate music and how to study it. Her talk was enjoyed by all.

Several educational tests have been taking place in the training school the last few days. Prof. Robinson states that the students are showing up well in these tests.

The class meetings that were held for yesterday were postponed on account of the assembly. It will be announced later when they will meet.

The Treble Clef club has organized. Natalie Manville was elected president and Opal Garrett was elected secretary-treasurer. The girls have started their work and will be ready to sing when called upon in the near future.

Sweaters and winter coats were noticeable on the campus this week. The cold weather has made the campus look deserted, the students seeking the warmth of the building.

Liberty Theater Will Open Again This Afternoon

The Liberty theater is being reopened today under the name of "New Liberty." This theater has been closed since the former owner, Foster McSwain, moved into his new theater building and the new management is reopening it today. The theater will run the best pictures that can be secured and everybody is invited to come around and get acquainted. Two new machines have been installed and special attention is being given to the projection of the pictures. The building has been improved and fixed up in first class condition. E. H. Kyser will have charge of the show and as he has had several years experience in the business a good show is assured.
